INTRODUCTION (Times New Roman, Font 12)

The introduction section should be written in Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single spacing, and should include: background of the problem, clear theoretical foundation, urgency and rationale, literature review from primary sources, problem-solving plan, scientific novelty or state of the art, research objectives, and hypothesis development. References should include national and international journals, clearly presenting the state of the art, methodological novelty, and its contribution to scientific development.

Author Notes:

- Article length should be 3000–5000 words, including references, notes, and tables.
- All articles will be checked for plagiarism.
- Authors must submit a statement letter confirming that the article has not been previously published.

Manuscripts must be typed using Microsoft Word, Times New Roman, single spacing, on A4 paper, with margins 3–3–2–2 cm (left–top–right–bottom). Authors may submit and register their manuscripts through the online OJS system by registering and uploading the article via the journal website

METHOD (Times New Roman, Font 12)

This section is written in Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single spacing, describing: research approach, scope or object of study, operational definitions of variables or research focus, location, population and sample/informants, main materials and tools, data collection techniques, and data analysis techniques. Tables or figures should use Times New Roman, 11 pt.

Table 1. Example of Table Format

Group	Pre test	Treatment	Post test
Experiment (E)	O1	X1	O3
Control (C)	O2	X2	O4

Research findings should be presented clearly and in accordance with the research scope. Results may be supported by tables, graphs, figures, and/or charts. All tables and figures must be numbered and titled, and data analysis results must be interpreted appropriately.

RESULT AND DISCUSSION (Times New Roman, Font 12)

The Result and Discussion section is written in uppercase [Times New Roman, 12 pt, bold] and contains a logical explanation of the research findings, linking them with relevant national and international journal references, GAP analysis, the novelty of the study, and clearly stated research contributions. It should also include comparisons with findings from relevant national and international journal articles. [Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single-spaced]. Research results may be presented in tables, figures/documentation, charts, or other supporting data.

CONCLUSION (Times New Roman, Font 12)

The Conclusion section is written in uppercase [Times New Roman, 12 pt, bold]. The conclusion presents a concise summary of the research results and discussion. It highlights the research findings as answers to the research questions or the research objectives. The conclusion also offers suggestions and/or contributions for practical application and/or the development of knowledge. [Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single-spaced].

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT (Times New Roman, Font 12)

The Acknowledgment section is typed in uppercase [Times New Roman, 12 pt, bold]. This section includes the names of institutions or individuals who contributed to funding the research and the preparation of the article. It expresses gratitude to individuals or parties who have supported the research—whether through funding, facilities, or intellectual contributions. The acknowledgment is written at the end of the text before the References section, not as a footnote to the article title. [Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single-spaced].

DECLARATION (Times New Roman, Font 12)

Contributor Role Taxonomy

[Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single-spaced]. State the contribution of each author in preparing the manuscript for publication.

Example:

“Author 1: Writing – Original Draft, Writing – Review & Editing, Conceptualization, Formal Analysis, Investigation, Resources, Visualization. Author 2 and Author 3: Conceptualization, Formal Analysis, Investigation, Supervision. Author 4: Writing – Review & Editing, Visualization, Supervision.”

If author contributions are not provided, the editor will include the statement: “All authors contributed equally as the main contributors to this manuscript. All authors have read and approved the final version of the paper.”

Funding Statement

[Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single-spaced]. State the primary funding source supporting the research, such as grants from public, commercial, or nonprofit funding agencies. If the research did not receive funding from these sources or was self-funded, authors may write: “This research did not receive any specific grant from funding agencies in the public, commercial, or nonprofit sectors.”

Competing Interest Statement

[Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single-spaced]. All authors must disclose any financial or personal relationships with individuals or organizations that could inappropriately influence (bias) their work. Examples of potential conflicts of interest include employment, consultancy, stock ownership, honoraria, paid expert testimony, patent applications/registrations, and other grants or funding. Authors must declare their competing interest statements during the submission of copyright to the journal, indicating that they are not aware of any financial or personal relationships that could appear to influence the work reported in this article.

Additional Information

[Times New Roman, 11 pt, normal, single-spaced]. Provide any additional information if needed.

REFERENCES (Times New Roman, Font 12)

This section contains all referenced sources, with at least 80% from primary sources or a minimum of 20 national and international journal references published within the last five years. References must be formatted according to the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th Edition. Every source listed in the reference list must appear in the manuscript. Citation management software such as Mendeley, Zotero, RefWorks, EndNote, and others must be used. [Times New Roman, 10 pt, normal, single-spaced].

The full article should not exceed 12 pages.
